

Welltech Total Water Management have been successfully delivering innovative water management solutions across the mining, civil, utility and construction sectors for many years. With the combined knowledge of our specialist teams we have developed an unconventional, compact system that brings together information technology and telecommunications.

Welltech[®] LinkPRO[™]

Why LinkPRO[™]

- LinkPRO[™] Telematic Solution is a solar powered wireless link to a remote control used to operate almost any piece of equipment, almost anywhere on a work site;
- Allows operator to switch on, off and monitor equipment which may not be in visual range;
- It has been specifically designed to be easy to install, easy to operate, and easy to repair;
- The system is powered by an internal battery and solar system and requires no installation to the customer's existing electrical services;
- The battery and solar panel have been sized to continually power the system during night-time operations, extended periods of low light, and dirty solar panels. Not even an electrical failure will hinder operation of the LinkPRO[™];
- Safety features include a siren which activates as a warning when the equipment is about to start, and a beacon light that remains on whilst the equipment is being controlled remotely;
- The supplied remotes are multi-channel and can operate multiple LinkPRO[™] units on site. Additional remote controls can be added as required;
- Each LinkPRO[™] system can be tailored to suit client's requirements;
- Our fast, highly skilled teams are available to mobilise our substantial in-house fleet at a moments notice;
- You can be assured we will deliver as promised and you will be supported by Welltech's guarantee of Commitment = Satisfaction.

Link
PRO[™]
TELEMATIC SOLUTIONS

Built by

Delivering innovative solutions that work.

David Henderson

For over 30 years, David has been providing workable solutions in an industry that requires absolute commitment.

David takes full accountability and responsibility for each and every project, ensuring company values and promises are kept. This gives our clients confidence that we will make decisions and will provide answers when they need them.

David's training in project and contracts management delivers peace of mind that Welltech and our clients are all on the same page with a clear understanding of strict deadlines, as well as project compliance duties and responsibilities.

"If you can't find a solution elsewhere, you will find it here – guaranteed".

From an ambitious dream to reality.

Once committed, Welltech are renowned for being finishers.

"Our unwavering dedication and commitment to achieve the very best, drives us relentlessly towards the ever moving goal of absolute perfection."

CEO David Henderson

CONTACT US ANYTIME

National Head Office

+61 8 9353 1366

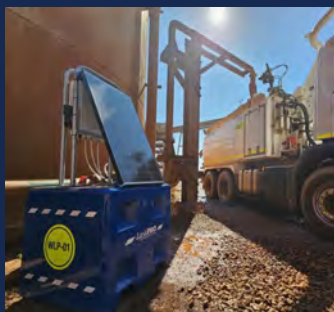

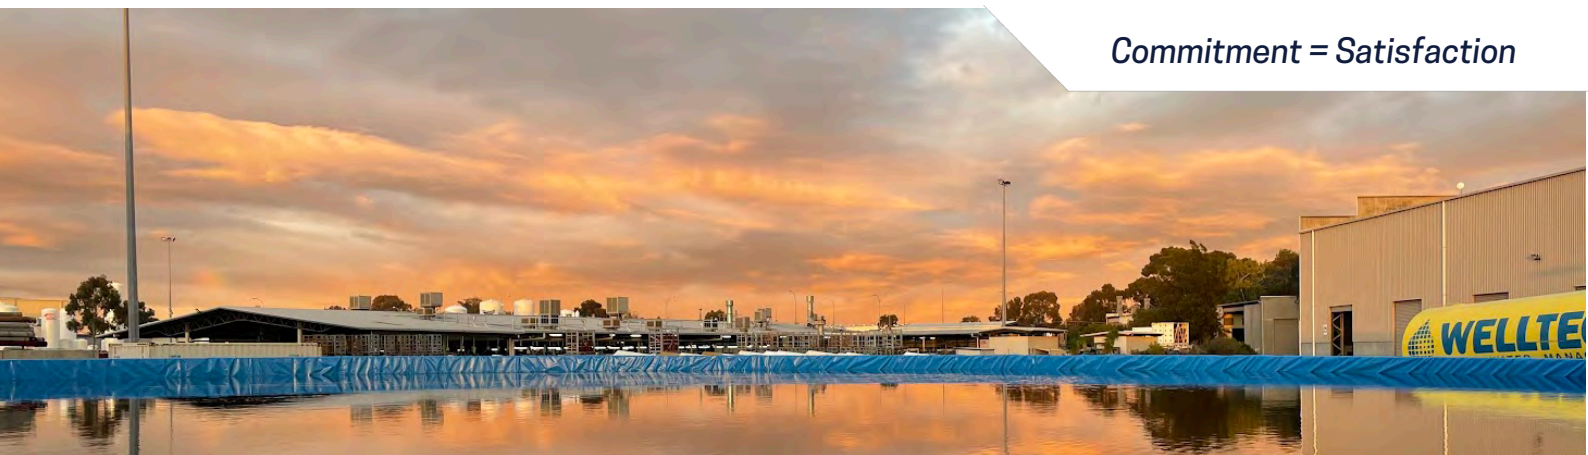

David Henderson (Solutions)

0407 544 196

Zak Haines (Technical)

0451 057 567

Commitment = Satisfaction

National Head Office

61 Baile Road
Canning Vale, WA 6155
+61 8 9353 1366

welltech.com.au